ists and isolated ranchers. Temperatures plummeted sharply in the wake of the storm. Cold-wave warnings were issued for much of the central plains. Heavy-snow warnings were out ahead of the storm in the Dakotas and Minnesota.

Hardest hit by the outbreak of tornadoes and high winds was Arkansas which counted six dead. Authorities searched through the night for other possible victims in wooded areas and rural communities in the eastern half of the state. As many as six twisters struck that section in a two-hour period.

The severe weather later skipped across the Mississippi River and unleashed a wave of tornadoes on western Tennessee. Two persons died when a twister smashed a house at Atoka, 30 miles north of Memphis. Ambulances shuttled 30 to 40 victims to the Memphis Naval Air Station Hospital with various injuries after a tornado struck a mobile-home park at Millington, north of Memphis.

Two blocks of homes and a church were leveled and five persons were injured in a tornado that hit the Vincent community west of West Memphis, Ark. Nine homes were demolished and six persons were injured at Crawfordsville, Ark., a few miles farther west.

Arkansas Power and Light Co. reported at least six towns without electrical power after the storms ripped down portions of a 500,000-volt line between Little Rock and Memphis. Seven other cities had only partial electrical service, the company said.

Humphrey Supported by Labor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has won key labor support for a presidential bid and aides are saying the new hopes for Vietnam war negotiations have boosted his prospects.

Humphrey said Wednesday he's still "weighing" the decision whether to seek the Democratic nomination. An aide called speculation that he would make the announcement today in Pittsburgh "baloney."

But the vice president, he said, is under "enormous and growing pressure to announce a decision sooner than he had planned."

Hanoi's declared willingness to begin limited peace talks not only improves Humphrey's position, the aide said, but undercuts Vietnam policy opposition by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene J. McCarthy, the only announced Democratic candidates so far.

The labor support came from AFL-CIO President George Meany, who indicated with the word "we" that he was speaking on behalf of his 14-million-member labor federation.

Only Humphrey, Meany said, could campaign for continuation of President Johnson's social and economic programs and for unity of "the American people behind the defense of freedom and democracy in the world."

In other political developments: — Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., said he believes New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller will become an active presidential candidate, making "some definitive announcements" by Monday or the end of next week.

But Rockefeller said in Albany he stands on his March 21 statement that he would accept a genuine draft and will speak out on the issues but not campaign for the GOP nomination.

— Iowa Gov. Harold E. Hughes, who has called a meeting of the nation's Democratic governors for April 15 in St. Louis, said "it's not a stop anyone or start anyone meeting" but "there probably will be people there who want to do both."

— McCarthy opened a California primary campaign today aimed at cutting down the voting strength Kennedy is building in solidly Democratic Negro and Mexican-American districts.

— Kennedy got a tumultuous welcome in Washington D.C.'s predominantly Negro section and drew cries of "yes" when he asked help against a regular Democratic organization slate in the District of Columbia's May 7 primary.

— Johnson supporters in the Indiana and Oregon primaries are taking a wait-and-see attitude toward other candidates, an Associated Press survey shows, while Kennedy forces are raiding the Johnson delegate camp in California and have won over a few Johnson men in Nebraska.

— The Nashville Tennessean reports a draft Johnson movement by Gov. Buford Ellington and other pro-Johnson governors. The paper says the plan is to commit state delegations to favorite-son candidates who would throw their support to the Johnson draft at the national convention. Buford declined to comment except to say he "is not trying to line up a ticket."

Both Humphrey and Kennedy met separately with President Johnson during the day but none of the three disclosed details of what was discussed.

Presidential press secretary George Christian said neither asked Johnson for an endorsement. He added: "The President does not want to preclude his freedom of movement."

other resistance.

A company from the 3rd Marine Division was the spearhead of the drive. After advancing along Highway 9 on the northeast, helicopters landed them northwest of the base and they were reported about half a mile from the barbed-wire perimeter.

Men of the 1st Air Cavalry Division pushed up from south of the base and were reported within 2.5 miles of their goal by midafternoon.

The bulk of the relief force, more Marine infantrymen and an engineer convoy, found the going tougher as they struggled west along the long-closed Highway 9. They had to stop repeatedly while engineers repaired bridges and the road.

By noon today they were 5.5 miles east of the base.

"Khe Sanh or Bust," said a sign on an equipment trailer.

Senior U.S. officers were puzzled by the lack of resistance the relief force was meeting. They had expected savage fighting.

That could still be in store. The relief force had come within range of big North Vietnamese artillery and rocket guns in the Co Roc mountains to the west inside Laos.

of West Memphis.

Nine homes were demolished and six persons injured at Crawfordsville, about 14 miles west of West Memphis.

A four-bedroom house trailer was overturned and six persons were injured as another twister struck at James Mill, about eight miles north of West Memphis.

Arkansas Power & Light Co., reported that at least six towns were without electrical power and that a 500,000-watt line between Little Rock and Memphis, had been blown down. AP&L said at least seven other cities had only partial electrical power.

The sheriff's office in Lincoln County, which was hardest hit, said search operations were hampered by debris and downed power lines.

Heavy rains accompanied the tornadoes and some authorities feared flash flooding in the stricken areas. Marble size hail was reported in some areas.

Numerous farm buildings over the state were reported damaged or destroyed by high winds.

Number of War Deaths Drop Some

SAIGON (AP) — The number of Americans killed in the Vietnam war dropped slightly last week but the total of U.S. wounded soared to the highest for a seven-day period during the conflict.

At the same time, U.S. troop strength increased by 5,000 to 516,000, the highest number ever listed for American forces in South Vietnam.

The U.S. Command said 330 Americans were killed in action last week as compared with 349 a week earlier. The number of wounded was 3,886, spokesmen said, as compared with 1,965 wounded in the week ending March 23. Of that 3,886 total, 1,829 were hospitalized but 2,057 did not require hospitalization, the command said.

Unofficial records showed the previous high for American wounded was 2,786 in the week ending last March 9.

South Vietnamese military headquarters listed its casualties for last week at 393 men killed, 1,160 wounded and 41 missing or captured. A week earlier, these totals has been 270 killed, 670 wounded and 49 missing.

The U.S. Command, in its weekly summary, said 3,289 enemy were killed last week by allied forces as compared with 2,223 a week earlier. The South Vietnamese command reported 2,872 enemy were killed last week but a week earlier, the South Vietnamese had listed enemy dead at 3,428. The total of enemy reported killed each week often conflicts in the separate reports issued by the two commands.

The latest casualty reports from the U.S. Command raised to 20,775 the number of Americans killed in the Vietnam war since Jan. 1, 1961, taken by authorities here as the starting date of the conflict. The number of American wounded in the war increased to 127,868. Of that total, the command said, 67,346 were hospitalized and 60,522 did not require hospitalization.

U.S. headquarters said enemy casualties inflicted by Allied forces from Jan. 1, 1968, through March 30, 1968, were 320,544 killed. No estimate is made of the number of enemy wounded.

Strap Use to Be Ruled on by Court

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals will hear oral arguments here Friday on whether the use of a leather strap to discipline prisoners constitutes cruel and unusual punishment.

Attorneys Edward L. Wright of Little Rock and Williams S. Arnold of Crossett raised the question in an appeal filed on behalf of three Arkansas penitentiary inmates.

The inmates are William King Jackson, Lyle Edward Ernst Jr., and Grady W. Mask.

Wright and Arnold filed their notice of appeal last June after U.S. District Judges Gordon Young and Oren Harris held that the strap was not forbidden by the constitution if accompanied by adequate safeguards to prevent "capricious administration."

The appeals court will be deciding a moot question as far as Arkansas' prisons are concerned, because the state's new Board of Correction adopted a rule Feb. 29 prohibiting use of the strap.

Wright and Arnold, who are serving without pay on appointment by Young and Harris, are proceeding with their appeal in an effort to prevent the possibility that the strap might be reinstated some time in the future.

King Plans to Ignore Injunction

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and other civil rights leaders say they will ignore an injunction prohibiting another mass march here next Monday if the injunction is allowed to stand.

Federal officials say the restraining order will be enforced by federal troops if necessary. A hearing was scheduled today before U.S. District Judge Bailey Brown, who issued the injunction Wednesday after city officials said they feared a recurrence of the rioting following a march led by King a week ago.

King told a cheering audience of some 2,000 persons Wednesday night, "We're going to march again; we've got to march again in order to put the issue where it's supposed to be."

Convicted Slayer Is Paroled

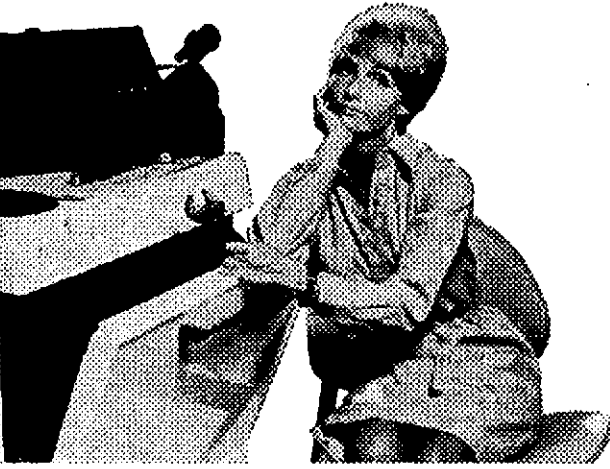

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — James Perry Williams, a convicted murderer whose life sentence was reduced to 50 years by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller last November, was among 84 convicts paroled Wednesday by the state Pardon and Parole Board.

Parole records say that on Dec. 31, 1949, after Williams had been sent to the penitentiary on a minor charge, he killed fellow inmate Bill Bohannon during an escape from Tucker Prison Farm, stole an automobile and was involved in a gunfight with State Police at a roadblock.

Williams was captured, charged with murder, kidnapping and assault with intent to kill. He received a life sentence.

In 1966, he was given a one-day pass on Christmas Day, but failed to return to the prison. A few days later, he exchanged gunfire with a state trooper near Mena.

Captured again, he was sentenced to nine years for assault with intent to kill, with the term to run concurrently with his life sentence.

The long distance tariff reductions filed Friday were described as being made because of a recent change in separations procedures. These procedures involve transferring some plant investment and expenses used to provide telephone service from intrastate to interstate operations.

The other new, reduced or eliminated rates include:

- Reductions in mileage charges outside the city service areas, which affect thousands of telephone users.
- Elimination of on-premise residence mileage inside these city service areas.
- Revision of several existing and establishment of several new service areas.
- Reductions in regular charges for special telephone sets for people with impaired hearing, weak speech, and "homebound" school students, who are "homebound," With PSC approval, the lower intrastate long distance rates would become effective starting May 1, and the other reduced rates on various customer billing dates throughout the month of June.

Baptist Meet Continues to Draw Crowds

It's amazing, but true. Even though it has been raining every night, the crowds at the First Baptist Church Revival this week have been above all expectations. Several hundred people have almost completely filled the lower floor of the large auditorium at each service.

The messages by Evangelist W. T. Furr, Pastor of the Queensborough Baptist Church of Shreveport, are outstanding. The music, directed by Evangelist Joe Trussell, is thrilling the hearts of all who attend.

Also, everyone is touched by the Primary and Junior "Crown Choirs" as they sing each evening.

Services are at 7:15 a.m. through Friday, with coffee, milk, and donuts served at the close of the service in the Church Fellowship Hall, and nightly at 7:30 through Sunday. Everyone is invited.

Mrs. Bertine Tims, Area Membership Chairman, Southeast District, Little Rock will give the Benediction.

NEWSBOY COULD BE GOSSIP COLUMNIST

Dear Helen: I'm a newsboy. A certain lady always tells me if it's raining to leave the paper inside on the hall table.

The other day I walked in to leave the paper and there she was "kissin' up a storm with another one of my customers. They're both married but not to each other. Guess they didn't hear my knock.

I pretended not to see, and said real loud, "Anybody home?" Then I got out of there fast. The next night when I collected, they both gave me envelopes with $5.00 in them.

I could sure use the ten skins, but it doesn't seem very honest. Do I give them back or forget the whole thing?—PAPER BOY IN THE KNOW

Dear P.B.: You know, of course, you got two bribes. It will hurt like the dickens but I think you should return the bills with notes saying, "Sorry, I can't accept this." Your honesty will make you ten skins poorer but it may shake—or scare—these dishonest people back to their real mates. . . . If that's any consolation to you.—H.

Dear Helen: I like a certain girl except for two things. She wears black sneakers and they don't do a thing for her legs and feet; and her stomach always talks. Should I tell her or drop her?—EMBARRASSED GUY

Dear Guy: If you've known this girl a long time you might tell her you've got a thing against black sneakers.

Stomach rumbles? They're beyond her control, but keep crackers handy. Maybe she's hungry.—H.

The long distance tariff reductions filed Friday were described as being made because of a recent change in separations procedures. These procedures involve transferring some plant investment and expenses used to provide telephone service from intrastate to interstate operations.

The other new, reduced or eliminated rates include:

- Reductions in mileage charges outside the city service areas, which affect thousands of telephone users.
- Elimination of on-premise residence mileage inside these city service areas.
- Revision of several existing and establishment of several new service areas.
- Reductions in regular charges for special telephone sets for people with impaired hearing, weak speech, and "homebound" school students,

Figures Detroit in American

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The best bet in the American League is that the Boston Red Sox will not repeat The Impossible Dream in 1968.

Everybody needs somebody somewhere. As a result the race could very well come down to the last day again.

Detroit needs a bullpen, Baltimore still has arm problems. Chicago always is short of runs. Minnesota has problems at shortstop and is concerned about Jim Kaat's arm. California still has to carry a full head of steam for an entire season.

Detroit appears to have the best chance of making it all the way.

The Tigers haven't won since 1945 and just missed by one game last fall. They have solid front-line hitting and formidable front-line pitching. An injury to catcher Bill Freehan or outfielder Al Kaline could kill them but the loss of key players would derail all of the other contenders, too.

Here's the way it looks from here:

1. Detroit
2. Baltimore
3. Chicago
4. Minnesota
5. California
6. Boston
7. Cleveland
8. New York
9. Washington
10. Oakland

Mayo Smith's Tigers can throw good, if not spectacular, pitching at you every day with Mickey Lolich, Joe Spurna, Earl Wilson and Denny McLain in rotation.

The power of Kaline, Freehan, Willie Horton, Norm Cash and Dick McAuliffe should provide enough margin to overcome late inning letdowns by the relief corps.

Actually, the bullpen may be better with the addition of Denny Ribant and some young arms from the farm system.

Baltimore has a real solidball club all the way, except for that pitching department where Hank Bauer already has been having problems. The Robinson boys, Frank and Brooks, and swing heavy bats that could take it all if the pitching holds up.

Eddie Stanky added a proven hitter in Tommy Davis but it still will be up to pitchers like Joe Horlen, Gary Peters and Tommy John, plus that great bullpen headed by Hoyt Wilhelm, to do the job.

The Twins' chances were hurt by Kaat's slowness in coming around after that elbow injury in late season. The left side of the infield is questionable although Cesar Tovar is available to plug any and all gaps.

California must get a super effort from Rick Reichardt and another big year from relief ace Minnie Rojas to stay in contention.

In addition to Lomborg's slow recovery from knee surgery, the Red Sox have to worry about the weak hitting by Ton Conigliaro during the spring. The young outfielder, coming off a serious head injury that kept

"I guess we have to enter into an unholy war of going after these players," declared George Mikan, commissioner of the rival one-year-old American Basketball Association.

Unsold, a 6-foot-8 two-time All-American at Louisville, was the No. 1 draft of the Baltimore Bullets in the NBA.

The Chicago Bulls chose the 7-foot Boerwinkle of Tennessee. Williams, 6-3 West Virginia star, was picked by the San Francisco Warriors.

None of the three has signed any contract. Each said they wanted to weigh all offers before deciding.

Unsold has been offered $500,000 over a four-year span to play with the Kentucky Colonels of the ABA. Baltimore did not reveal its offer although Buddy Jeannette, general manager of the Bullets, declared, "We're going to leave no stone unturned to sign Unseld to an NBA contract."

Boerwinkle, the No. 1 pick of Denver in the ABA, currently is playing in the Olympic trials at Albuquerque, N.M. "We certainly don't want to do anything to upset Boerwinkle's chances of making the Olympic team," said Dick Klein, Chicago general manager. "As a result we have had no direct negotiations with the boy."

Williams, drafted by New Orleans of the ABA, said he would like to play with the Warriors. However, he plans to consult with Bucky Waters, his West Virginia coach, before making a decision.

The NBA did sign two of its top draft choices. Bill Hewitt, 6-8 Southern California star, signed a three-year contract with the Los Angeles Lakers.

Bob Kauffman, 6-8 Little All-American from Guilford, N.C., College, also signed for three years with the Seattle SuperSonics.

The signings give the older NBA a 3-1 edge over the ABA.

Elvin Hayes, Houston's All-American was signed last week by the San Diego Rockets for an estimated $440,000 for four years. The only player signed so far by the ABA is Wayne Chapman of Western Kentucky by the Kentucky Colonels.

The other No. 1 choices in the NBA draft were Don Smith, 6-8 of Iowa State by Cincinnati; Otto Moore, 6-11 of Pan American by Detroit; Charley Paulk, 6-8, of Northeastern Oklahoma by Milwaukee; Gary Gregor, 6-7 of South Carolina by Phoenix; Don Chaney, 6-5 of Houston by Boston; Skip Harlicka 6-1 of South Carolina by St. Louis; Shaler Halimon, 6-5 of Utah State by Philadelphia and Bill Hosket, 6-7 of Ohio State by New York.

None has been signed.

The NBA first-round draft was conducted over the telephone Monday by Commissioner Walter Kennedy. It was moved up from May 8 when the other rounds will be held.

The ABA draft is scheduled for April 27, but it held what Mikan called an evaluation meeting March 9. Each ABA team then named four college players it could consult before the draft.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association's president, Michigan Prof. Marcus L. Plant, all but conceded any hope for reaching a voluntary peace not backed up by law is dead.

The Rev. Wilfred H. Crowley, president of the USTFF, announced Wednesday he had written Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark to ask him "to investigate violations of the Sherman Antitrust Laws on the part of the Amateur Athletic Union by monopolistic rules and practices unilaterally restricting track and field competition."

Col. Donald Hull, executive director of the AAU, termed the threat of antitrust action "ridiculous" and said, "I don't see how it deals with a nonprofit group trying to help the young athletes of America."

The USTFF is the protégé of the NCAA, which in turn is its largest member. Father Crowley, arguing that up to 90 per cent of the nation's amateur athletes fall within the USTFF, charged the AAU is trying to maintain a monopoly over control of sports meets.

Pro Cage War Winners in Bowling Tournament for Players Started

An unholy war to sign college players was under way in pro basketball today.

The 22-year-old National Basketball Association announced its first-round draft picks Wednesday with Westley Unseld, Tom Boerwinkle and Ron Williams among the top choices.

Athletic Groups Are Still at War

By JAMES R. POLK
Associated Press Sports Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress and the courts appear destined to become the new battleground in the bitter war between the nation's colleges and the Amateur Athletic Union for sports management supremacy.

Campus officials promise, however, the feud won't affect America's prospects in the 1968 Olympics.

The schools spurned a Senate-supported proposal for peace Wednesday as the U.S. Track and Field Federation asked the Justice Department to begin an immediate antitrust investigation of AAU track control.

The USTFF made it clear if the government won't go to court, it will.

At the same time, three senators said Congress should write a peace treaty into law, and each took initial steps in that direction.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association's president, Michigan Prof. Marcus L. Plant, all but conceded any hope for reaching a voluntary peace not backed up by law is dead.

Greensboro Scene of Pro Tour

By KENALYTA
Associated Press Sports Writer
GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — The professional golf tour, which has produced eight one-strike victories in 11 major events this year, pitched camp at the Sedgefield Country Club today for the Greater Greensboro Open, worth a record $137,500.

Attention centered on the efforts of Arnold Palmer to sharpen his game for next week's Masters at Augusta, Ga. Although he has played the four-day, 72-hole GGO often, he has not been eminently successful. His best finish in the GGO was last year when he finished third behind winner George Archer, four shots off the pace at 271 over the par 71 course measuring 7,034 yards.

Palmer is one of five men in the Greensboro field of 140 who have won a tournament this year. Others are Tom Weiskopf, the leading money winner; defending champion Archer; Billy Casper and Johnny Pott.

Top contenders include Doug Sanders, twice a GGO champion and winner of over $46,000 in GGO money; Julius Boros, another who has won here, and such foreign threats as Gary Player, Bob Charles, Bruce Crampton, Harold Henning and Bob Verwey.

And then there's Sam Snead. The one-time Virginia hillbilly, whose tournament appearances are limited sharply, has won here eight times, starting with the 1938 inaugural. His most recent triumph came three years ago at the age of 52, making him the oldest winner of a PGA tour event.

Sam has won over $45,000 here in 27 appearances. In addition to his eight victories he has been second or third nine times.

Flu Strikes Olympic Hopefuls

By PAT THOMPSON
Associated Press Writer
ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Altitude and adaptation to international rules took a back chair today as No. 1 problems confronting U.S. Olympic basketball hopefuls.

Flu and tardiness hindered final practice sessions Wednesday for the 88-man, eight-team tournament opening today in Albuquerque's 5,000-foot altitude.

Stress is being placed this year on trials and training at altitude for the 1968 Olympic Games at 7,500-foot Mexico City.

Arad McCutchan of Evansville, NCAA College Division coach, said with a smile that the altitude affect on athletes has "been accepted for many years. So I guess it's true. Psychologically... that's for psychiatrists. I'm a basketball coach."

The NCAA red team, which features floor leaders JoJo White of Kansas and Rick Mount of Purdue, meets the burly Armed Forces team in the tournament's opening game at 4 p.m., EST.

NCAA Whites play the NAIA All-Stars at 5:30 p.m. The NCAA College Division battles the AAU All-Stars, who feature Edgar Lacey, who quit NCAA champion UCLA at mid-season, at 9:30 p.m. The NCAA Blues battle the Junior College All-Stars at 11 p.m.

A 45-man selection committee has scheduled lengthy meetings after each session to grade players individually. The 12-man Olympic team and six alternates will be named Sunday.

International rules, in contrast to college regulations, include no midcourt stripes and no 10-second limit to cross the halfway mark, 30 seconds to shoot, three seconds instead of five to bring the ball in, not as strict fouling rules and no dunk restrictions.

him out of the World Series, now is in Boston for an examination.

Alvin Dark has his work cut out for him in Cleveland, if he can get maximum performance from his pitchers, especially Sam McDowell, he can make a stir.

Washington tore everybody apart in the South and may be underrated. Camilo Pascual is back on the beam and a couple of rookies have looked good.

The Yankees are worried about Al Downing's arm and have problems at short and third. Pitching should save them from the cellar and could be the factor to move them ahead of Washington. Mickey Mantle still is in there swinging.

Oakland's new scenery should pep up the A's but they have so many youngsters with limited experience that it will be tough to move up.

With 22 strikeouts in 66 at bats, Conigliaro was worried when he flew from Winter Haven, Fla., to Boston Tuesday night.

He told teammates he had trouble focusing on pitches, especially in the daytime, and was squinting a lot and bothered by headaches.

The auto accident occurred in Somerville at approximately 2 a.m. Wednesday. Conigliaro was driving alone after leaving a date off at her home when his car and one containing two young couples collided.

Sluggish Must Have His Eye Checked

BOSTON (AP) — Tony Conigliaro, pronounced "all right" after suffering minor injuries in an auto collision, had a more important examination scheduled today to check his eyesight.

The sluggish young Boston Red Sox outfielder, trying to come back after suffering blurred vision as a result of being hit by a pitch last summer, has been struggling in spring training this spring.

Stanley Cup Chase Starts in Earnest

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The chase for the Stanley Cup, hockey's most cherished piece of hardware, begins tonight at four National Hockey League sites.

The Chicago Black Hawks, who finished a stumbling fourth in the NHL's East Division, play the second place Rangers at New York and East champion Montreal hosts third place Boston.

In the West Division playoffs, St. Louis, which finished third, visits champion Philadelphia and second place Los Angeles entertains Minnesota, which finished fourth.

All series are best-of-seven games.

Last year's Cup champions, the Toronto Maple Leafs, finished fifth in the East Division and did not qualify for the playoffs.

And the Black Hawks, last year's regular season champions, entered the Cup showdown with a host of problems, among them a six-game winless streak in the final two weeks of the regular season which slid them from second to fourth place.

Then there are injuries. Scoring champion Stan Mikita was a doubtful starter for tonight's opening game because of a back injury and Bobby Hull and Denis DeJordy also were nursing bruises.

Emile Francis, coach of the Rangers, said he expected Jim Neilson, the husky defenseman who has been nursing two bruised knees, to be ready. He also was expecting to see Mikita and Hull in action for Chicago.

"I don't doubt that they're hurting," said Francis, "but I know those two. They'll be here even if they have to play in wheelchairs."

Boston's hustling Bruins—most of them with no prior Stanley Cup experience—are decided underdogs to Montreal but Canadiens' Coach Toe Blake wasn't so sure.

"I've been in enough playoffs to know anything can happen," said Blake, who has led the Canadiens to seven Stanley Cups in 13 seasons.

In the new West Division, Philadelphia goes with young Bernie Parent in goal against St. Louis and veteran Glenn Hall.

Doug Favell, Philadelphia's other goalie, is sidelined with an infected throat.

The playoffs mark the return of the Flyers to their regular home ice. They played 21 of their last 24 regular season games on the road after the Spectrum was closed by wind damage.

Los Angeles was ready to call on Coach Red Kelly against Minnesota. Kelly, inactive since leading the Maple Leafs to the Cup last year, was among the list of 30 eligibles submitted to the league by the Kings.

Buccaneers Feel They Are Accepted

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — "I think New Orleans has accepted us finally," said Buccaneer Coach Babe McCarthy after his team won its American Basketball Association Western Division semifinal playoff series with Denver.

A standing room only crowd of 6,500 saw New Orleans come up with a big third quarter Wednesday night and beat the Rockets 102-97. The Bucs won their three playoff games at home, losing two to Denver on the road.

It was the season's largest home attendance for New Orleans. Although the Bucs led the Western Division most of the regular season, they floundered at the gate at home.

"It's been a long hard fight," McCarthy said, "but I think New Orleans people realize we can give 'em good entertainment."

The Bucs open a best-of-7 series for the Western Division title with the Dallas Chaparrals here Friday night. The winner plays the Eastern Division finalist.

The Bucs' two outside shooters, Larry Brown and Jimmy Jones, were the high scorers. Brown got 24 points and Jones 18.

Trio Unhurt in Crash on Highway

MENA, Ark. (AP) — Three men escaped injury Wednesday when a single-engine plane they were making an emergency landing in on Arkansas 88 about 15 miles east of here crashed.

George L. White of Wichita, Kan., the pilot, tipped a wing of the plane to miss a highway sign while landing and a gust of wind caused the aircraft to crash, authorities said.

White and two other Wichita men, Ralph Bachelor and Harold Harrelson, were returning to Wichita from a fishing trip to Montgomery, Ala., when they ran into thunderstorms and tried to land.

Oldtimers Are Sent to Minors

By RN RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dave Morehead, who once pitched a no-hitter for the Boston Red Sox, and Bill Rohr, who once almost did, will be doing their throwing in the minors this year.

The Red Sox optioned Morehead, who threw Boston's last no-hitter in 1955, to their Louisville farm team Wednesday. Rohr, who came within one out of hurling a hitless game against the Yankees in his first start last season, was released outright.

It was, in fact, a bad day for pitchers all around. The Cincinnati Reds optioned out 19-year-old Gary Nolan, 14-8 last year, to the minors because of arm trouble. And the New York Yankees sent Steve Barber to their Syracuse farm.

Also, the Red Sox optioned Darrell Brandon and the New York Mets gave Hal Reniff, a 21-year-old pitcher, his outright release.

In exhibition action Wednesday, Detroit beat Houston 3-1. The Washington edged Baltimore 3-1. Atlanta pounded the Yankees 7-1. Pittsburgh crushed Cincinnati 4-3. Oakland crushed Boston 9-2. Cleveland outsluged Los Angeles 10-8.

Also the Chicago Cubs outlasted San Francisco 7-6 in 11 innings. California beat its Seattle farm club 2-1 and Philadelphia nipped St. Louis 5-4.

Mickey Stanley's three-run homer in the third inning gave Detroit all the runs it needed to win. Mickey Lolich and Dennis Ribant combined to stop the Astros on five hits.

Sam Bowers hit a homer in the ninth for Washington's victory margin over Baltimore. The Senators have a spring record of 17-6, best in the majors.

The Braves beat the Yankees on six runs in the fourth inning. Atlanta put together five singles, a walk, a wild pitch, a passed ball and an error.

Jim Bunning went the distance for the Pirates and survived a rally in the ninth inning with the tying run on third, by retiring Pete Rose and Alex Johnson.

Sal Bando hit his ninth homer of the spring for Oakland in the

Johnson May Pass Opening of Baseball

By JAMES R. POLK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has his last chance to avoid a baseball shut-out as the Washington Senators open the 1968 season Monday against Minnesota.

Johnson, now 6-3 and the only President still waiting for his first winner in baseball's annual opening day ritual, may pass up the opportunity and call on teammate Hubert H. Humphrey to throw the inaugural ball. The vice president's relief record is 0-1.

Not since the depression days of Herbert Hoover has the presidential pitching record been so impoverished. Hoover needed four tries to watch a winner as the Senators squeezed out a 1-0 victory in his final appearance in 1932. And even then it took 10 innings.

The White House is still silent on whether Johnson, who has announced he won't run for reelection, will make the traditional trip to the ballpark next week for his fourth try. His attendance is uncertain.

Humphrey, the ever-ebullient substitute, is No. 2 in this as well as other duties, although his pitching assignment could be complicated by the fact his baseball loyalties belong unabashedly to the Minnesota Twins.

The Senators, losers of five straight openers and thus responsible for Johnson's record, will be underdogs again next week against the Twins, who came within a game of winning the 1967 American League pennant.

In recent years, Dwight D. Eisenhower, who once skipped an opener to play golf, leads his colleagues at 4-3. Franklin D. Roosevelt finished 4-4. Harry S. Truman bowed out at 3-4 and John F. Kennedy, like Johnson the victim of the expansion era Senators, was 1-2.

first inning when the Athletics scored three runs.

Vern Fuller drove in four runs, three with a homer for Cleveland. The Indians didn't wrap the game up until Angel rookie pitcher Vicente Romo's throwing error let in the tie-breaking run.

Rookie Jose Arcia had five hits and drove in the winning run with a single in the 11th for the Cubs. The Cubs scored four runs in the ninth on six straight hits off Frank Linzy.

Cookie Rojas and Mike Ryan each drove in two runs each for the Phillies. Rojas homered in the first and Ryan's two-run double in the eighth provided the winning runs.

Figures Detroit in American

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The best bet in the American League is that the Boston Red Sox will not repeat The Impossible Dream in 1968.

Everybody needs somebody somewhere. As a result the race could very well come down to the last day again.

Detroit needs a bullpen, Baltimore still has arm problems, Chicago always is short of runs, Minnesota has problems at shortstop and is concerned about Jim Kaat's arm. California still has to carry a full head of steam for an entire season.

Detroit appears to have the best chance of making it all the way.

The Tigers haven't won since 1945 and just missed by one game last fall. They have solid front-line hitting and formidable front-line pitching. An injury to catcher Bill Freehan or outfielder Al Kaline could kill them but the loss of key players would derail any of the other contenders, too.

Here's the way it looks from here:

1. Detroit
2. Baltimore
3. Chicago
4. Minnesota
5. California
6. Boston
7. Cleveland
8. New York
9. Washington
10. Oakland

Mayo Smith's Tigers can throw good, if not spectacular, pitching at you every day with Mickey Lolich, Joe Sparrma, Earl Wilson and Denny McLain in rotation.

The power of Kaline, Freehan, Willie Horton, Norm Cash and Dick McAuliffe should provide enough margin to overcome late inning letdowns by the relief corps.

Actually, the bullpen may be better with the addition of Denny Ribant and some young arms from the farm system.

Baltimore has a real solidball club all the way, except for that pitching department where Hank Bauer already has been having problems. The Robinson boys, Frank and Brooks, and swing heavy bats that could take it all the pitching holds up.

Eddie Stanky added a proven hitter in Tommy Davis but it still will be up to pitchers like Joe Horlen, Gary Peters and Tommy John, plus that great bullpen headed by Hoyt Wilhelm, to do the job.

The Twins' chances were hurt by Kaat's slowness in coming around after that elbow injury in late season. The left side of the infield is questionable although Cesar Tovar is available to plug any and all gaps.

California must get a super effort from Rick Reichardt and another big year from relief ace Minnie Rojas to stay in contention.

In addition to Lomborg's slow recovery from knee surgery, the Red Sox have to worry about the weak hitting by Ton Conigliaro during the spring. The young outfielder, coming off a serious head injury that kept

Queen of the Ice Signs Contract

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — What does a president talk about when he meets a queen?

"Oh, not politics, Vietnam or anything like that," pretty Peggy Fleming said today, gushing over the invitation from President Johnson to make her second visit to the White House.

"He is a wonderful man—I adore him. When he received me last week in his office, the President wanted to talk about the Olympics, the countries I had visited and the people I had seen."

"He pinned a flower on me. He gave me a bracelet and a pin and he joked about my helping the gold medalists by bringing back a gold medal."

The President has invited the 19-year-old world figure skating queen to dinner at the White House next Wednesday night, her second command appearance in less than two weeks.

Perhaps Mr. Johnson wants to talk to Peggy about balancing the national budget.

The demure, 108-pound ice ballerina from Colorado Springs, Colo., signed a long-term contract Wednesday that should make her one of the most highly paid personalities in sports.

The agreement—believed to be for five years with a base guarantee of $500,000—is with Banner Associates, a television producer, and the National Broadcasting Company.

Banner, who gave impetus to the television careers of comedienne Carol Burnett and singer John Davidson, among others, plans a debut for Miss Fleming in a television spectacular over NBC next fall.

From there, he hopes to send her into dramatic roles, use her also in musicals and movies while permitting her to make periodic appearances in professional ice shows. Three of the major ones already have made extravagant offers.

"Her potential is unlimited—she can become another Sonja Henie," Banner said. "She has a delightful personality, a Grecian-type beauty and she projects very well."

"I cannot estimate how much money she can make. It all depends on how hard she wants to work."

him out of the World Series, now is in Boston for an examination.

Alvin Dark has his work cut out for him in Cleveland. If he can get maximum performance from his pitchers, especially Sam McDowell, he can make a stir.

Washington tore everybody apart in the South and may be underrated. Camilo Pascual is back on the beam and a couple of rookies have looked good.

The Yankees are worried about Al Downing's arm and have problems at short and third. Pitching should save them from the cellar and could be the factor to move them ahead of Washington. Mickey Mantle still is in there swinging.

Oakland's new scenery should pep up the A's but they have so many youngsters with limited experience that it will be tough to move up.

Pro Cage War for Players Started

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer
An unholy war to sign college players was under way in pro basketball today.

The 22-year-old National Basketball Association announced its first-round draft picks Wednesday with Westley Unseld, Tom Boerwinkle and Ron Williams among the top choices.

"I guess we have to enter into an unholy war of going after these players," declared George Mikan, commissioner of the rival one-year-old American Basketball Association.

Unseld, a 6-foot-8 two-time All-American at Louisville, was the No. 1 draft of the Baltimore Bullets in the NBA.

The Chicago Bulls chose the 7-foot Boerwinkle of Tennessee. Williams, 6-3 West Virginia star, was picked by the San Francisco Warriors.

None of the three has signed any contract. Each said they wanted to weigh all offers before deciding.

Unseld has been offered $500,000 over a four-year span to play with the Kentucky Colonels of the ABA. Baltimore did not reveal its offer although Buddy Jeannette, general manager of the Bullets, declared, "We're going to leave no stone unturned to sign Unseld to an NBA contract."

Boerwinkle, the No. 1 pick of Denver in the ABA, currently is playing in the Olympic trials at Albuquerque, N.M. "We certainly don't want to do anything to upset Boerwinkle's chances of making the Olympic team," said Dick Klein, Chicago general manager. "As a result we have had no direct negotiations with the boy."

Williams, drafted by New Orleans of the ABA, said he would like to play with the Warriors. However, he plans to consult with Bucky Waters, his West Virginia coach, before making a decision.

The NBA did sign two of its top draft choices. Bill Hewitt, 6-6 Southern California star, signed a three-year contract with the Los Angeles Lakers. Bob Kauffman, 6-8 Little All-American from Guilford, N.C., College, also signed for three years with the Seattle SuperSonics.

The signings give the older NBA a 3-1 edge over the ABA.

Elvin Hayes, Houston's All-American was signed last week by the San Diego Rockets for an estimated $440,000 for four years. The only player signed so far by the ABA is Wayne Chapman of Western Kentucky by the Kentucky Colonels.

The other No. 1 choices in the NBA draft were Don Smith, 6-8 of Iowa State by Cincinnati; Otto Moore, 6-11 of Pan American by Detroit; Charley Paulk, 6-8, of Northeastern Oklahoma by Milwaukee; Gary Gregor, 6-7 of South Carolina by Phoenix; Don Chaney, 6-5 of Houston by Boston; Skip Harlicka 6-1 of South Carolina by St. Louis; Shaler Hallmon, 6-5 of Utah State by Philadelphia and Bill Hosket, 6-7 of Ohio State by New York.

None has been signed.

The NBA first-round draft was conducted over the telephone Monday by Commissioner Walter Kennedy. It was moved up from May 8 when the other rounds will be held.

The ABA draft is scheduled for April 27, but it held what Mikan called an evaluation meeting March 9. Each ABA team then named four college players it could consult before the draft.

Slugger Must Have His Eye Checked

BOSTON (AP) — Tony Conigliaro, pronounced "all right" after suffering minor injuries in an auto collision, had a more important examination scheduled today to check his eyesight.

The slugging young Boston Red Sox outfielder, trying to come back after suffering from blurred vision as a result of being hit by a pitch last summer, has been struggling in spring training this spring.

With 22 strikeouts in 66 at bats, Conigliaro was worried when he flew from Winter Haven, Fla., to Boston Tuesday night.

He told teammates he had trouble focusing on pitches, especially in the daytime, and was squinting a lot and bothered by headaches.

The auto accident occurred in Somerville at approximately 2 a.m. Wednesday. Conigliaro was driving alone after leaving a date off at her home when his car and one containing two young couples collided.

Athletic Groups Are Still at War

By JAMES R. POLK

Associated Press Sports Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress and the courts appear destined to become the new battleground in the bitter war between the nation's colleges and the Amateur Athletic Union for sports management supremacy.

Campus officials promise, however, the feud won't affect America's prospects in the 1968 Olympics.

The schools spurned a Senate-supported proposal for peace Wednesday as the U.S. Track and Field Federation asked the Justice Department to begin an immediate antitrust investigation of AAU track control.

The USTFF made it clear if the government won't go to court, it will.

At the same time, three senators said Congress should write a peace treaty into law, and each took initial steps in that direction.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association's president, Michigan Prof. Marcus L. Plant, all but conceded any hope for reaching a voluntary peace not backed up by law is dead.

The Rev. Wilfred H. Crowley, president of the USTFF, announced Wednesday he had written Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark to ask him "to investigate violations of the Sherman Antitrust Laws on the part of the Amateur Athletic Union by monopolistic rules and practices unduly restricting track and field competition."

Col. Donald Hull, executive director of the AAU, termed the threat of antitrust action "ridiculous" and said, "I don't see how it deals with a nonprofit group trying to help the young athletes of America."

The USTFF is the protégé of the NCAA, which in turn is its largest member. Father Crowley, arguing that up to 90 percent of the nation's amateur athletes fall within the USTFF, charged the AAU is trying to maintain a monopoly over control of sports events.

The AAU had accepted the Feb. 1 findings of an arbitration

Greensboro Scene of Pro Tour

Associated Press Sports Writer
GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — The professional golf tour, which has produced eight one-strike victories in 11 major events this year, pitched camp at the Sedgefield Country Club today for the Greater Greensboro Open, worth a record $137,500.

Attention centered on the efforts of Arnold Palmer to sharpen his game for next week's Masters at Augusta, Ga. Although he has played the four-day, 72-hole GGO often, he has not been eminently successful. His best finish in the GGO was last year when he finished third behind winner George Archer, four shots off the pace at 271 over the par 71 course measuring 7,034 yards.

Palmer is one of five men in the Greensboro field of 140 who have won a tournament this year. Others are Tom Weiskopf, the leading money winner; defending champion Archer; Billy Casper and Johnny Pott.

Top contenders include Doug Sanders, twice a GGO champion and winner of over $46,000 in GGO money; Julius Boros, another who has won here, and such foreign threats as Gary Player, Bob Charles, Bruce Crampton, Harold Henning and Bob Verwey.

And then there's Sam Snead. The one-time Virginia hillbilly, whose tournament appearances are limited sharply, has won here eight times, starting with the 1933 inaugural. His most recent triumph came three years ago at the age of 52, making him the oldest winner of a PGA tour event.

Sam has won over $47,000 here in 27 appearances. In addition to his eight victories he has been second or third nine times.

Milwaukee Gets Coach, Manager

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Milwaukee's new National Basketball Association franchise got from Philadelphia and Wisconsin what it didn't get from Marquette University—a head coach and general manager.

The still unnamed expansion team announced Wednesday that Larry Costello, an 11-year NBA veteran with Syracuse and the Philadelphia 76ers, would be its head coach.

John Erickson, 40, head coach at the University of Wisconsin for the last nine seasons, was named the general manager.

Both jobs were offered to Marquette coach Al McGuire, who accepted the dual role last month only to have his way blocked by Carquette. The university held McGuire to the five-year contract he signed a year ago.

Other who has won here, and such foreign threats as Gary Player, Bob Charles, Bruce Crampton, Harold Henning and Bob Verwey.

And then there's Sam Snead. The one-time Virginia hillbilly, whose tournament appearances are limited sharply, has won here eight times, starting with the 1933 inaugural. His most recent triumph came three years ago at the age of 52, making him the oldest winner of a PGA tour event.

Sam has won over $47,000 here in 27 appearances. In addition to his eight victories he has been second or third nine times.

Flu Strikes Olympic Hopefuls

By PAT THOMPSON

Associated Press Writer
ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Altitude and adaptation to international rules took a back chair today as No. 1 problems confronting U.S. Olympic basketball hopefuls.

Flu and tardiness hindered final practice sessions Wednesday for the 88-man, eight-team tournament opening today in Albuquerque's 5,000-foot altitude.

Stress is being placed this year on trials and training at altitude for the 1968 Olympic Games at 7,500-foot Mexico City.

Arad McCutchan of Evansville, NCAA College Division coach, said with a smile that the altitude affect on athletes has "been accepted for many years. So I guess it's true. Psychologically... that's for psychiatrists. I'm a basketball coach."

The NCAA red team, which features floor leaders JoJo White of Kansas and Rick Mount of Purdue, meets the burly Armed Forces team in the tournament's opening game at 4 p.m., EST.

NCAA Whites play the NAIA All-Stars at 5:30 p.m. The NCAA College Division battles the AAU All-Stars, who feature Edgar Lacey, who quit NCAA champion UCLA at mid-season, at 9:30 p.m. The NCAA Blues battle the Junior College All-Stars at 11 p.m.

A 45-man selection committee has scheduled lengthy meetings after each session to grade players individually. The 12-man Olympic team and six alternates will be named Sunday.

International rules, in contrast to college regulations, include no midcourt stripes and no 10-second limits to cross the halfway mark, 30 seconds to shoot, three seconds instead of five to bring the ball in, not as strict fouling rules and no dunk restrictions.

Stanley Cup Chase Starts in Earnest

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
The chase for the Stanley Cup, hockey's most cherished piece of hardware, begins tonight at four National Hockey League sites.
The Chicago Black Hawks, who finished a stumbling fourth in the NHL's East Division, play the second place Rangers at New York and East champion Montreal hosts third place Boston.
In the West Division playoffs, St. Louis, which finished third, visits champion Philadelphia and second place Los Angeles entertains Minnesota, which finished fourth.
All series are best-of-seven games.
Last year's Cup champions, the Toronto Maple Leafs, finished fifth in the East Division and did not qualify for the playoffs.
And the Black Hawks, last year's regular season champions, entered the Cup showdown with a host of problems, among them a six-game winless streak in the final two weeks of the regular season which slid them from second to fourth place.
Then there are injuries. Scoring champion Stan Mikita was a doubtful starter for tonight's opening game because of a back injury and Bobby Hull and Dennis DeJordy also were nursing bruises.
Emile Francis, coach of the Rangers, said he expected Jim Neilson, the husky defenseman who has been nursing two bruised knees, to be ready. He also was expecting to see Mikita and Hull in action for Chicago.
"I don't doubt that they're hurting," said Francis, "but I know those two. They'll be here even if they have to play in wheelchairs."
Boston's hustling Bruins—most of them with no prior Stanley Cup experience—are decided underdogs to Montreal but Canadiens' Coach Toe Blake wasn't so sure.
"I've been in enough playoffs to know anything can happen," said Blake, who has led the Canadiens to seven Stanley Cups in 13 seasons.
In the new West Division, Philadelphia goes with young Bernie Parent in goal against St. Louis and veteran Glenn Hall.
Doug Favell, Philadelphia's other goalie, is sidelined with an infected throat.
The playoffs mark the return of the Flyers to their regular home ice. They played 21 of their last 24 regular season games on the road after the Spectrum was closed by wind damage.
Los Angeles was ready to call on Coach Red Kelly against Minnesota. Kelly, inactive since leading the Maple Leafs to the Cup last year, was among the list of 30 eligibles submitted to the league by the Kings.

Buccaneers Feel They Are Accepted

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — "I think New Orleans has accepted us finally," said Buccaneer Coach Babe McCarthy after his team won its American Basketball Association Western Division semifinal playoff series with Denver.
A standing room only crowd of 6,500 saw New Orleans come up with a big third quarter Wednesday night and beat the Rockets 102-97. The Bucs won their three playoff games at home, losing two to Denver on the road.
It was the season's largest home attendance for New Orleans. Although the Bucs led the Western Division most of the regular season, they floundered at the gate at home.
"It's been a long hard fight," McCarthy said, "but I think New Orleans people realize we can give 'em good entertainment."
The Bucs open a best-of-7 series for the Western Division title with the Dallas Chaparrals here Friday night. The winner plays the Eastern Division finalist.
The Bucs' two outside shooters, Larry Brown and Jimmy Jones, were the high scorers. Brown got 24 points and Jones 18.

Trio Unhurt in Crash on Highway

MENA, Ark. (AP) — Three men escaped injury Wednesday when a single-engine plane they were making an emergency landing in on Arkansas 88 about 15 miles east of here crashed.
George L. White of Wichita, Kan., the pilot, tipped a wing of the plane to miss a highway sign while landing and a gust of wind caused the aircraft to crash, authorities said.
White and two other Wichita men, Ralph Bachelor and Harold Harrelson, were returning to Wichita from a fishing trip to Montgomery, Ala., when they ran into thunderstorms and tried to land.

Oldtimers Are Sent to Minors

By RN RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Dave Morehead, who once pitched a no-hitter for the Boston Red Sox, and Bill Rohr, who once almost did, will be doing their throwing in the minors this year.
The Red Sox optioned Morehead, who threw Boston's last no-hitter in 1955, to their Louisville farm team Wednesday. Rohr, who came within one out of hurling a hitless game against the Yankees in his first start last season, was released outright.
It was, in fact, a bad day for pitchers all around. The Cincinnati Reds optioned out 19-year-old Gary Nolan, 14-8 last year, to the minors because of arm trouble. And the New York Yankees sent Steve Barber to their Syracuse farm.

Also, the Red Sox optioned Darrell Brandon and the New York Mets gave Hal Reniff, a mainstay of the Yankees in better days, his outright release.
In exhibition action Wednesday, Detroit beat Houston 3-1, Washington edged Baltimore 3-2, Atlanta pounded the Yankees 7-1, Pittsburgh downed Cincinnati 4-3, Oakland crushed Boston 9-2, Cleveland outsluged Los Angeles 10-8.
Also the Chicago Cubs outlasted San Francisco 7-6 in 11 innings, California beat its Seattle farm club 2-1 and Philadelphia nipped St. Louis 5-4.
Mickey Stanley's three-run homer in the third inning gave Detroit all the runs it needed to win. Mickey Lolich and Dennis Rhant combined to stop the Astros on five hits.
Sam Bowers hit a homer in the ninth for Washington's victory margin over Baltimore. The Senators have a spring record of 17-6, best in the majors.
The Braves beat the Yankees on six runs in the fourth inning. Atlanta put together five singles, a walk, a wild pitch, a passed ball and an error.
Jim Bunning went the distance for the Pirates and survived a rally in the ninth inning with the tying run on third, by retiring Pete Rose and Alex Johnson.
Sal Bando hit his ninth homer of the spring for Oakland in the

Johnson May Pass Opening of Baseball

By JAMES R. POLK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has his last chance to avoid a baseball shut-out as the Washington Senators open the 1968 season Monday against Minnesota.
Johnson, now 0-3 and the only President still waiting for his first winner in baseball's annual opening day ritual, may pass up the opportunity and call on teammate Hubert H. Humphrey to throw the inaugural ball. The vice president's relief record is 0-1.
Not since the depression days of Herbert Hoover has the presidential pitching record been so impoverished. Hoover needed four tries to watch a winner as the Senators squeezed out a 1-0 victory in his final appearance in 1932. And even then it took 10 innings.
The White House is still silent on whether Johnson, who has announced he won't run for reelection, will make the traditional trip to the ballpark next week for his fourth try. His attendance is uncertain.
Humphrey, the ever-ebullient substitute, is No. 2 in this as well as other duties, although his pitching assignment could be complicated by the fact his baseball loyalties belong unabashedly to the Minnesota Twins.
The Senators, losers of five straight openers and thus responsible for Johnson's record, will be underdogs again next week against the Twins, who came within a game of winning the 1967 American League Pennant.
In recent years, Dwight D. Eisenhower, who once skipped an opener to play golf, leads his colleagues at 4-3. Franklin D. Roosevelt finished 4-4, Harry S. Truman bowed out at 3-4 and John F. Kennedy, like Johnson the victim of the expansion era Senators, was 1-2.

first inning when the Athletics scored three runs.
Vern Fuller drove in four runs, three with a homer for Cleveland. The Indians didn't wrap the game up until Angel rookie pitcher Vicente Romo's throwing error let in the tie-breaking run.
Rookie Jose Arcia had five hits and drove in the winning run with a single in the 11th for the Cubs. The Cubs scored four runs in the ninth on six straight hits off Frank Linzy.
Cookie Rojas and Mike Ryan each drove in two runs each for the Phillies. Rojas homered in the first and Ryan's two-run double in the eighth provided the winning runs.

Action Against Industrial Bonds Kills 2 Plants

Although the Senate first passed a bill overriding the Internal Revenue Service's order revoking tax-exemption of industrial bonds it finally supported the order, but made the termination of the exemption next Jan. 1 instead of mid-March. Therefore, presuming the House will go along with the Senate, this is the final year for issuance of tax-exempt bonds to promote new industry in agricultural areas.

It was an eminently successful device—the exempt industrial bond—for it brought 227 new or expanded plants to Arkansas.

So successful was it, in fact, that the idea spread to practically all the states—and success killed it. So many industrial bond issues came on the market and soaked up so much of investment funds that interest rates rose for competing tax-exempt bonds—such as municipal “regulars”—and school districts—and eventually these competitors protested to Washington.

They had a case, of course—but it was a short-sighted policy to kill the goose that laid the golden egg of new industry. For industry creates jobs and payrolls and school- and city-supporting taxes—benefits which in the long run outweigh any increase in interest cost.

That the nation's industrial expansion is damaged goes without saying. But the authoritative Wall Street Journal did say so this morning. It reported that the death of tax-exempt industrial bonds has probably killed several major aluminum projects, and named three: A Northwest-Aluminum Co. installation scheduled for Oregon; a Gulf Coast Aluminum Co. complex for Louisiana; and a Copper Ragan Co. - Southwire Co. joint venture in Georgia.

Remote and nothing to do with Southwest Arkansas, you think. Come again. Disaster threatens our own house. With tax-exempt industrial bonds Little River county was able to locate a 50-million-dollar Nekoosa-Edwards Paper Co. plant near Ashdown. But now this financial lure is to be outlawed.

Yet U.S. Plywood-Champion Papers holds a $900,000 property stake at McNab with the intention of building a 100-million-dollar paper complex there about 1970. It is reasonable to suppose they will think twice before plunging into competition with a tax-aided mill at Ashdown—that's the dire conclusion on the death of tax-exempt “industrial.”

There is this ray of hope, however: Paper is in short supply around the world, particularly in the United States, and more plants are likely. If we in Arkansas have lost the lure of “tax exempts” so have all the other states. And new industry still has the advantage of a 7 per cent tax credit for installing new plants and the further advantage of an expedited depreciation schedule to help pay for equipment.

These factors may just possibly swing the U.S. Plywood-Champion Papers plant to McNab—but it is a disheartening blow to find that tax-aid given Little River county is to be denied Hempstead. You can't spell it any other way.

Rocket Loses 2 Engines But Goes in Orbit

By HOWARD BENEDICT
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — America's Saturn 5 super-rocket lost two second-stage engines today in a troubled flight that may possibly delay the man-to-the-moon program.

Despite the premature shutdown of the second stage engines, other engines took up the slack and the world's most powerful rocket shoved into orbit a satellite weighing 132 tons, including the unmanned Apollo moon ship.

But it was a wrong orbit, 100 miles too high. An officer of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said if today's flight had been a man-to-the-moon mission, it would have been aborted because not enough fuel would have remained to propel a three-man Apollo craft outward to the moon.

Maj. Gen. Samuel Phillips, Apollo program manager, said: “If we had lost two engines like this on a lunar mission, we would not have conducted the mission. We would go to the alternate earth orbit mission.”

The main goal of the flight was to establish whether the Saturn 5 could safely orbit an Apollo spacecraft. Because it did achieve this goal—even though the orbit was wrong—there still is a possibility the next Saturn 5 will be manned. “We'll have to carefully examine the data for several days before we can make a decision on how serious the problem is and whether the next Saturn 5 is manned,” Phillips said.

“Because of the early shutdown of the two second-stage engines,” he added, “there is no and a Copper Ragan Co. - Southwire Co. joint venture in Georgia. Remote and nothing to do with Southwest Arkansas, you think. Come again. Disaster threatens our own house. With tax-exempt industrial bonds Little River county was able to locate a 50-million-dollar Nekoosa-Edwards Paper Co. plant near Ashdown. But now this financial lure is to be outlawed.”

Tornadoes Kill 6 in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — At least six persons were killed and scores were injured as tornadoes and high winds ripped across portions of Southwest and Northeast Arkansas Wednesday night.

Hardest hit was Lincoln County, where five persons were killed.

Authorities searched into the night in wooded areas and rural communities for more injured or dead. As many as six twisters struck the eastern half of the state in about a two-hour period.

The first tornado touched down on Arkansas 81 about eight miles south of Star City hurling several cars 100 yards into a wooded area, killing two persons and injuring a 5-year-old boy in one car and seriously injuring seven others.

The same tornado was believed to have struck Gould 30 miles east of Star City, where a woman was killed.

Two tornadoes from the same storm then struck near DeWitt, one injuring four persons, one seriously, and the other disrupting high voltage lines in the area.

The State Police identified those killed in the Lincoln County area as: Donald Richardson, 28, and his wife Sherry, 28, of Pine Bluff; Vaughn Wade, 52, of Star City; Lula Tyus of Star City and John Handley of Gould.

The body of P.E. Pillow, 66, was found in a tree near his rural home about six miles north of Paragould, after a tornado leveled his house. His three children, who were found in the front yard, were treated for minor injuries.

Three employees of the L. A. Darling Co., of Paragould were injured when the tornado ripped the roof off the plant. Police from surrounding areas were called into the Northeast Arkansas town to guard against looting after winds smashed windows in more than a dozen businesses.

Two blocks of homes and a church were leveled and five persons were injured at the Vincent Community 12 miles west

Some Remarks Seem to Be Woefully Weary to Anyone on a Diet

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that anyone on a diet gets woefully weary of hearing: “You're only three chins from victory.”

“Have you tried the egg yolk and raisins diet? It worked wonders for my brother.”

“What do you mean you've already lost 10 pounds? It looks to me like you're putting more on.”

“In his case it might not be fat at all. It might be just hot air.”

“Have you tried getting along with nothing but distilled water and coconut milk? It worked wonders for my sister, but now whenever she visits Florida and sees a palm tree she has an irresistible urge to climb it.”

“If you lose 25 pounds at your age, Midge, it simply means you'll have to buy a whole new wardrobe and spend $1,000 on a face lift.”

“Taking it off is easy. Keeping it off is the hard part. Have you thought about that?”

“After all, it's only what you eat that makes you fat—so all you have to do is don't eat it. Simple, isn't it?”

“If your trouble is a sweet tooth, why don't you try the dill-pickle-with-whipped-cream diet? It worked wonders for an aunt of mine.”

“Perhaps it would help your mental attitude, Harry, if you went back to reading the sports pages in the newspaper and quit spending the entire evening drooling over the food pictures in the grocery store ads.”

“Isn't that funny, Midge? I eat as much as three longshoremen, and still I wear a size 10 dress.”

“They say if you lose weight too fast you also can lose your powers of resistance and may pop off with pneumonia or tuberculosis.”

“The Gourmet Society cordially invites you to attend its annual 12-course banquet. The menu will be—”

“Have you tried the pep pill and black coffee diet? It worked wonders for one of the salesmen for our firm—jittered him down to a shadow. Of course, when he went to the hospital, he put most of it right back on.”

“As your doctor, Harry, I want to congratulate you. You've lost another four ounces this week. At this rate you'll lose 13 pounds in a year, and within five years—if you just stick to it—you'll be within 10 pounds of your normal weight.”

Light Firing as Marines Near Base

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP)—Advance elements of a big U.S. relief force drove through light enemy artillery and mortar fire today to within a half mile of the besieged Marine combat base at Khe Sanh.

With resistance continuing light, Soviet informants in London said the North Vietnamese were lifting the long Siege of Khe Sanh as evidence of good intentions in preliminary peace talks.

However, about 80 rounds of enemy artillery and mortar fire hit Khe Sanh and Marines striking out from the base were reported engaged in fighting with the North Vietnamese in the hills to the west.

A U.S. spokesman said he expected some of the 20,000-man relief force to link up with the 6,000 Marines inside Khe Sanh by nightfall for the first breakthrough in the siege of the fortress, now in its 11th week.

Marines and helicopter-borne air cavalrymen were pushing in three prongs toward the base. Reports from the field said they were encountering sporadic artillery and mortar fire but little

Supreme Court Takes Freedom of Choice Plan Under Advisement

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Supreme Court took under advisement Wednesday three cases in which freedom of choice plans are being attacked as an ineffective means of producing desegregation in public schools.

The court heard four hours of oral arguments on the cases, which involve the school districts in Gould, Ark., Jackson, Tenn., and New Kent County, Va.

The Legal Defense and Educational Fund of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People contended that freedom of choice plans as practiced in the three districts perpetuate a dual racial system.

Intervening as a friend of the court, the Justice Department asked the court to topple freedom of choice. That could lead to a landmark decision second only to the one handed down in 1954 in the historic case of Brown vs. the Board of Education, which saw the court hold segregated schools to be unconstitutional.

About 80 Negroes now attend the predominantly white Gould School, along with some 300 white students. In the Fields School, eight blocks away, there are 475 Negroes and no whites. Jack Greenberg of New York, LDF counsel, contended that the “worth that the school district places on the Negro child-

Big Storm Hits Across the Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A monster storm punched its way through the midcontinent today after raking the middle Mississippi Valley with death-dealing tornadoes and burying parts of the Great Plains in a blizzard.

Eight persons were killed and scores were injured Wednesday night in a rash of tornadoes which churned out of the storm system and ripped hardest at Arkansas and Tennessee. Heavy rain accompanying the twisters brought a threat of flash flooding in northeastern Arkansas.

Foot-deep snows spilling out of the massive storm were whipped into 6-foot drifts by 50-mile-an-hour winds and left much of Wyoming and adjacent parts of Colorado and Nebraska virtually paralyzed. Helicopters and snow plows were poised to move out at daybreak in search of hundreds of stranded motorists.

Soviet Source Reports Peace Talks to Begin in Moscow Next Week

LBJ Leaves Tonight for Hawaii

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has agreed to direct contacts on peace between North Vietnam and U.S. representatives and will fly to Hawaii late tonight to discuss peace and war prospects with top American officials from Saigon.

Washington is understood to have messaged Hanoi informing the government of President Ho Chi Minh of U.S. readiness to meet for initial contacts on peace talks.

Officials indicated the first Hanoi-Washington contact would probably be between top U.S. and North Vietnamese diplomats in Moscow, Vientiane, Laos, or some other capital where both countries have embassies.

The first purpose, in the U.S. view, would be to set a time and place for actual talks on scaling down the war and eventually negotiating a settlement.

The situation has developed with such speed, since Johnson ordered a partial halt in the bombing of North Vietnam Sunday night that even surprised U.S. government leaders are not quite sure what will happen next.

They voiced cautious optimism about peace prospects but appeared by no means certain the United States and North Vietnam can actually reach an agreement soon.

As if in response to their doubts, North Vietnam's Communist newspaper warned the United States today not to expect any concessions in return for a total bombing halt.

The paper, Nhan Dan, in a statement 10 hours after the Hanoi announcement, said Johnson's speech Sunday “and the subsequent acts of the U.S. aggressors have made it clear that the U.S. government remains obstinate and has not given up its sinister design of aggression against South Vietnam, which is manifest right in Johnson's ‘limited bombing’ concerning North Vietnam.”

Prior to this statement—which reached Washington only early today—the Washington-Hanoi agreement to talk after years of continuously expanding war was regarded in Washington as a great breakthrough toward eventually ending the conflict.

Johnson announced in a brief late-afternoon television-radio appearance Wednesday that “we will establish contact with the representatives of North Vietnam.”

“Consultations with the government of South Vietnam and our other allies are now taking place,” Johnson added.

VIETNAM: PEACE MOVES AND WAR

President Johnson agrees to direct contacts between U.S. and North Vietnamese representatives. The President flies to Hawaii tonight to confer with top American officials stationed in South Vietnam.

The two American diplomats picked by Johnson as his special envoys have many years of experience in negotiating with Communists.

South Vietnamese President Thieu holds an emergency conference with the allied ambassadors amid indications that government circles are unhappy about the prospects of U.S.-North Vietnamese talks.

A big relief force nears Khe Sanh after meeting little enemy resistance in a three-day drive to open the highway to the besieged U.S. Marine base.

Saigon is an open city. The enemy is at the gates and within the population. Security precautions are haphazard.

An Associated Press survey shows President Johnson's decision not to seek re-election has led to a wait-and-see attitude on the presidential candidates among his supporters in Indiana and Oregon. Some switchovers to Sen. Robert F. Kennedy occur in Nebraska and California.

House Passes Plane Travel Ticket Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed and sent to the Senate today a bill to tax airplane tickets to foreign countries and reduce the duty free amount of goods that may be brought to this country by returning tourists.

The bill originally was designed to cut down the international balance of payments deficit but action on a major proposal to accomplish that was deferred by the House Ways and Means Committee.

The travel tax approved would be 5 per cent of the price of an airline ticket.

The present duty-free exemption of $100 on goods brought back by tourists would be cut to $10 until October 15, 1969, when it would rise to $50.

The existing allowance of $10 for gifts mailed from abroad to this country would be cut to $1 and a flat rate of 10 per cent of retail value would be imposed on the price of all goods above the new duty-free allowance.

Left out of the bill was an administration proposal to levy a tax up to 30 per cent on spending by U.S. travelers abroad over a stated minimum.

Enemy Plans No Big Push During Talks

By LOUIS NEVIN
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — Soviet informants said today they expect preliminary Vietnam peace talks to begin in Moscow next week. They said the North Vietnamese have already assured the United States privately they will launch no major offensive if all American bombing attacks are halted.

The sources, who cannot be identified by name, said Hanoi already has begun lifting the siege of Khe Sanh as a sign of its intentions.

None of these statements could be confirmed in official Western circles.

The officials cautioned, however, against expecting an early end to the peace negotiations. They said they expected them to go for months.

Other sources recalled that 12,000 Americans were killed in Korea while truce talks were going on.

The Russian informants said Moscow was not consulted by Hanoi before Wednesday's conditional acceptance of President Johnson's call for peace talks.

They said that in view of Peking's present relatively low influence in the North Vietnamese capital, they did not believe the Red Chinese were consulted either.

“What you Americans seem to find hard to realize is that North Vietnam is a sovereign nation,” one Russian said.

They said they expected the preliminary talks to get under way “very quickly—probably next week.”

They added that they believed the only possible sites for such talks were Moscow or Paris and that the Soviet capital has a 60-40 chance of being chosen.

Moscow is the only capital in the world with American, North Vietnamese and Viet Cong diplomatic representatives. Paris has a diplomatic mission from Hanoi but no official representative of the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong.

The Soviet informants said they believed a major stumbling block, once real peace negotiations get under way, will be an American commitment to withdraw from South Vietnam.

They said this is a prime issue in Hanoi's eyes and the North Vietnamese want a definite agreement that U.S. withdrawal will start the moment a peace pact is signed and be completed within a fixed time.

Rubinfoff, Violin Play Here Friday

Despite the fact that there are only 450 Stradivarius violins recorded, Rubinfoff says that he receives hundreds of telephone calls, telegrams, and letters from excited people all over the world telling him that they have just discovered in their attics a violin just like his. Some go on to say, that their find has been in the family for 150 years, while others will state that the label has the same date as his. Although Rubinfoff knows differently, he finds it hard to explain without hurting the feelings of those so certain they possess a "Strad."

Rubinfoff explains some facts about the authenticity of the "world's most famous maker of violins." The public does not seem to realize that the date and label do not mean a thing. However, a genuine Stradivarius can easily be recognized by an artist, dealer in violins, and a violin-maker, by the carving and its unique finish if it is an original. And, according to Rubinfoff, sometimes people can be fooled.

Rubinfoff went on to tell us how "fakes" or "copies" have been produced in Italy, Germany, and Japan in years past, to retail between $5,00 and $50,000. All of these fakes have been pasted labels bearing such an inscription that caused many hearts to beat faster than normal. "Sometimes an unhealthy situation," says Rubinfoff.

Genuine Stradivarius, "REAL STRADIS", violins made by Antonio Stradivari of Cremona, bring from $10,000 to over $100,000. There are only about 540 authentic known Strads in existence, 163 of which are owned in the United States; and when one of these changes hands, the cat-eyed dealers and collectors of three continents record the event.

Antonio Stradivari, whose life work today represents an estimated value of about $12,000,000, was the finest violin-maker in the 17th, and 18th century (Cremona, Italy), which was the violin-making capital of the world. He was born in 1644 and died on December 18, 1737.

The secret of violin-making—violin makers, even chemists, and acoustical engineers, have taken Stradivari's instruments apart to see what makes them so good. One theory is that the unusually lustrous and transparent varnish Stradivari used had something to do with the "Strad" tone. But Antonio Stradivari's secret, like his grave, is still undiscovered. Where those bones are today, and what makes a Strad, a Strad, nobody knows.

Those who hear Rubinfoff when he appears in Hope on Friday April 5th, will thrill at the lustrous tones of his world famous Violin. Made in 1731, by the Master Stradivari, this fine instrument still bears the bejeweled crest of that famous family. During the revolution, it was smuggled out of Russia and eventually purchased by Mr. Rubinfoff. This precious treasure is insured for $100,000. Everyone in Hope should hear Mr. Rubinfoff play his fabulous Strad.

Tickets for this outstanding concert can be purchased at both Banks, The Chamber of Commerce and any Rotarian.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Q—What is a blue dome cyst? What is the cause and how can it be cured?

A—This is a benign cyst of the breast that is filled with a straw-colored fluid that appears blue through the blood vessels of the skin. The cause is unknown. Since it is benign, no treatment is required.

Q—Our son, 18, has a pilonidal cyst. He had an operation for it 20 months ago and it still has not healed. What would you suggest?

A—Pilonidal (literally "nest of hair") cysts occur at the lower end of the spine. Because of the location, they easily become infected and are notoriously slow to heal. Furthermore, if even a minute portion of the cyst wall was left behind, a new cyst will form and continue to discharge. In either case, a second operation may be required.

Q—My husband has a small hole at the end of his tail bone which breaks open every two or three weeks. It drains for two or three days then heals up again. What is it? What is the best treatment? Will it become cancerous?

A—Your description would fit a pilonidal cyst. Surgical removal is the only treatment. Cancer almost never develops in these cysts.

Q—I have had a sebaceous cyst on my cheek for two years. Can it be cured? Could it turn to cancer?

A—Unless the cyst or wen is a cosmetic problem you should let it alone and avoid squeezing it because of the danger of introducing an infection. Surgical removal is the only cure. Wens do not become cancerous.

Q—What is cataplexy and how does it differ from catatonia and petit mal epilepsy?

A—A person with cataplexy, usually a form of hysterical reaction, maintains his limbs for a long time in any position in which they are placed. Cataplexy, a form of schizophrenia, is a more serious condition. The victim sits motionless for hours without giving any evidence that he is aware of what is going on around him. In a petit mal attack the victim may be motionless and unconscious but the attack lasts only two to 15 seconds. If anyone has spells of remaining motionless it is important that a doctor determine which of the above conditions he has because the treatment would be quite different for each of them.

Thompson, Harriman Experienced

By LEWIS GULICK

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two diplomats with more than 50 years of experience between them in dealing with Communists have been picked by President Johnson as his special envoys for any Vietnam peace talks.

Ambassador-at-large W. Averell Harriman, once ambassador to Moscow, and Llewellyn E. Thompson, the current U.S. Ambassador to the Soviet Union, are in Washington, poised to go whenever the White House signals them to launch discussions with the Reds.

Harriman has already carried out more special missions for presidents dating back to Franklin D. Roosevelt than anyone in government.

Born the heir of a rail fortune, Harriman tried some private enterprise in the Soviet Union during Moscow's short free-enterprise period during the 1920s.

In the next decade he joined Roosevelt's New Deal. With the outbreak of World War II he shifted to the star assignment as a special diplomatic envoy that he holds today.

Harriman was ambassador to the Soviet Union during World War II. At other times he was Roosevelt's special contact with Soviet Premier Josef Stalin and Britain's Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

Now operating as ambassador-at-large, Harriman has a special interest in Southeast Asia because he helped negotiate the 1962 Geneva agreement for the neutrality and independence of Laos.

Thompson, a 63-year-old native of Los Animas, Colo., is regarded as a cool customer whether on a diplomatic hotseat or playing poker with friends.

He launched his career in a more modest way than Harriman, signing on as a junior foreign officer in 1929 after graduating from the University of Colorado.

"Tommy" Thompson transferred to the Moscow Embassy and soon became a top expert on the Soviets.

His years of war-time service in the Soviet Union, including staying behind in Moscow after other diplomats fled in the face of the Nazi onslaught, gave him a close working knowledge of the Soviets.

President Harry S. Truman later named him high commissioner in occupied Austria, an assignment which was changed to ambassador to an independent Austria after the Soviets withdrew from that country.

From Vienna, Thompson moved to Moscow as ambassador in 1957. He returned to Washington in 1962 for a stint as senior adviser on East-West affairs until Johnson sent him back to Moscow in 1966.

McClellan Not Through With F111 Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan says he'll hold a new round of hearings on the problem-plagued, multi-billion-dollar F111 war plane, grounded by the Air Force and well on its way toward being junked as a Navy weapon.

The promise of more public hearings before the Senate investigations subcommittee headed by the Arkansas Democrat—who characterized the F111 program as a "tragic blunder"—closely followed these developments:

—Two of the first six Air Force F111As sent to Southeast Asia for combat duty were lost within a week after entering the Vietnam war, perhaps handing the Communists the fruits of U.S. research that alone cost $1 billion.

—The Senate Armed Services Committee voted to junk the Navy's F111B program on which $400 million reportedly has been spent. It approved instead $287 million to start work on a substitute plane.

If Congress goes along as expected, the action means that the F111—originally known as the TFX—will become exclusively an Air Force fighter-bomber and not the joint Air Force-Navy plane that Robert S. McNamara ordered and insisted upon throughout his tenure as secretary of Defense.

There is no independent estimate of how much cancellation of the Navy's F111B program would cost because the Pentagon has refused to provide cost figures on the overall F111 project.

However, McClellan said in an interview that estimated costs have tripled in the past five years, and now stand at more than $12 billion.

he had "crossed lines" with Old Guard members but that these connections were in business and not politics.

With almost one month remaining before the ticket closes, several others are considered as likely candidates.

Jack Yates, a lawyer from Ozark and a former legislator, said Wednesday that he is giving serious thought to the possibility of running and indicated that he would make his decision know by Saturday.

Former Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett says he is encouraged by his reception throughout the state and that he will announce his plans either April 13 or April 20.

Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell is still considering the race and indicated Wednesday that he will probably make up his mind within two weeks.

Ted Boswell, a Little Rock attorney, is also a possible candidate. However, his intense interest in pushing for a new constitution for the state could keep him from entering the race.

Boswell says he believes the effort toward constitutional revision is the major need in the state today. Chances are that he will file as a candidate for a delegate's position at a convention, if one is called by the electorate this November.

Whitbeck said he hoped the party could evolve from the primary without being split into fragments.

Both men cited the needs for educational progress in the state and each connected it to the financial dilemma currently facing the state.

Also, both men's friendship with Rep. Jack Cakes of Augusta entered the picture with Crank saying newsmen might be surprised at Cakes' answer if they asked if he was supporting Whitbeck.

Cakes and Sen. Olen Hendrix of Prescott served as co-hosts of a dinner at which Whitbeck was the principal speaker during the February special legislative session.

Crank made two references to the fact that a person could more easily offer financial solutions when they had little personal knowledge of state government.

The remark was interpreted as a slap at Whitbeck, but when confronted with the question of whether it was, Crank said, "I left inference I didn't intend to."

Crank tended to discount his association with Old Guard Democrats by saying the term was invented by the news media and that he really didn't know who the members were.

Whitbeck acknowledged that

Ethics Codes Now for Both Houses

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Both the House and Senate now have official codes of ethics aimed at curbing conflict of interest by requiring Congress members to make public some information on their outside financial dealings.

The House adopted its code Wednesday on a 405 to 1 vote. The lone dissenter, Rep. Peter H. B. Frelinghuysen, R-N.J., said the code's financial-disclosure provision "proves nothing and is of no value to the voter."

The Senate adopted its code March 22 on a 67 to 1 vote. The lone dissenter, Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., called it a fraud on the public, too weak to mean anything.

The two codes differ substantially in their public-disclosure requirements.

Both codes stemmed from the clamor last year following the censure of Senator Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., and exclusion of Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., from the seat to which he had been elected.

Major provisions of both codes deal with financial disclosure and with use of funds received from testimonial dinners.

These are the main differences:

Financial Disclosure — The House requires public disclosure of the names of companies doing business with the government from which the member had an interest in excess of $5,000 or income over $1,000.

House members also would have to publicly name professional groups, such as law firms, from which they received more than $1,000 a year and the sources of any other outside income in excess of $5,000.

A second report by House members would list the amounts of the outside income or interest. It would be sealed and opened only in an ethics committee probe.

The Senate report would list with the comptroller general all financial interests and income. It would be kept confidential and could be opened only by the Senate ethics committee.

Senators would have to file for public scrutiny an accounting of all contributions and fees in excess of $300.

Both House and Senate reports would be annual.

Testimonial dinners — House members would consider as campaign contributions all proceeds from testimonial dinners unless otherwise specified in advance by the sponsors. These funds would have to be kept separate from personal funds and could not be used for other than campaign purposes.

Misconduct of Convicts Under Study

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Prosecutor Richard Adkisson is "checking into" a complaint about alleged misconduct of convicts employed in demolition of a building on Missouri Pacific Railroad property here.

The crew of convicts has moved across the river to North Little Rock and is now engaged in tearing down a building in the Missouri Pacific switching yard.

Robert Van Winkle, assistant prison superintendent in charge at Tucker prison farm, said the convicts worked in Little Rock at the MoPac station for several months and that he had heard a complaint about two girls trying to talk to convicts. "They were asked to leave and, if they hadn't, we would have notified police," Van Winkle said.

The superintendent said that he had not heard reports that the convicts had entered a residence near the station to meet with women and that he would have stopped this practice if it had started.

Adkisson said he did not want to discuss his investigation because comment might hamper it. He said he was not aware that convicts were working in Little Rock until two men escaped from the work detail two weeks ago.

Van Winkle said that former Prison Supt. Thomas O. Murton bought two buildings, one in Little Rock and one in North Little Rock, from MoPac for $1 each.

Convicts were sent to tear them down and reclaim material which might be used for construction at Tucker Farm, he said.

The size of the crew has ranged from four to six men, he said, and they have been supervised at all time by a salaried guard.

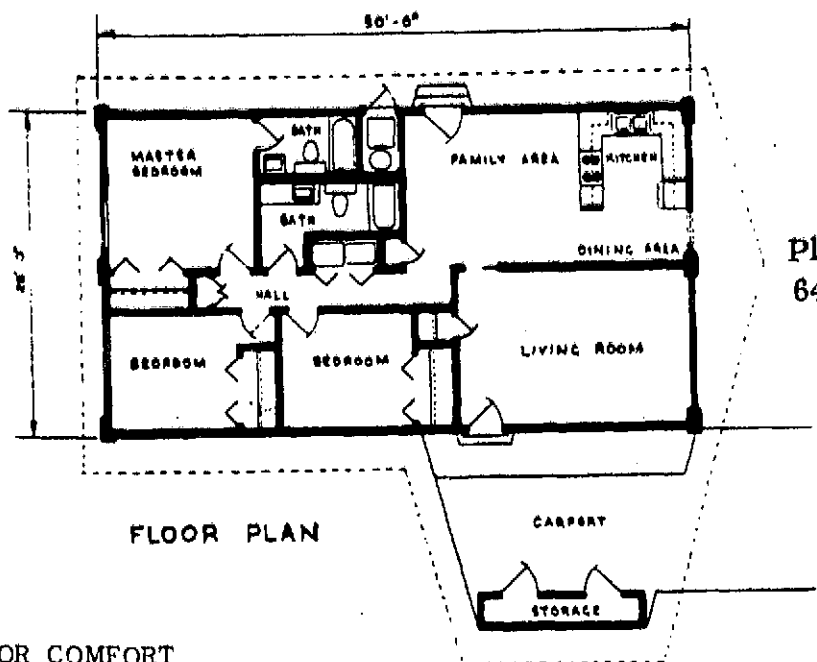

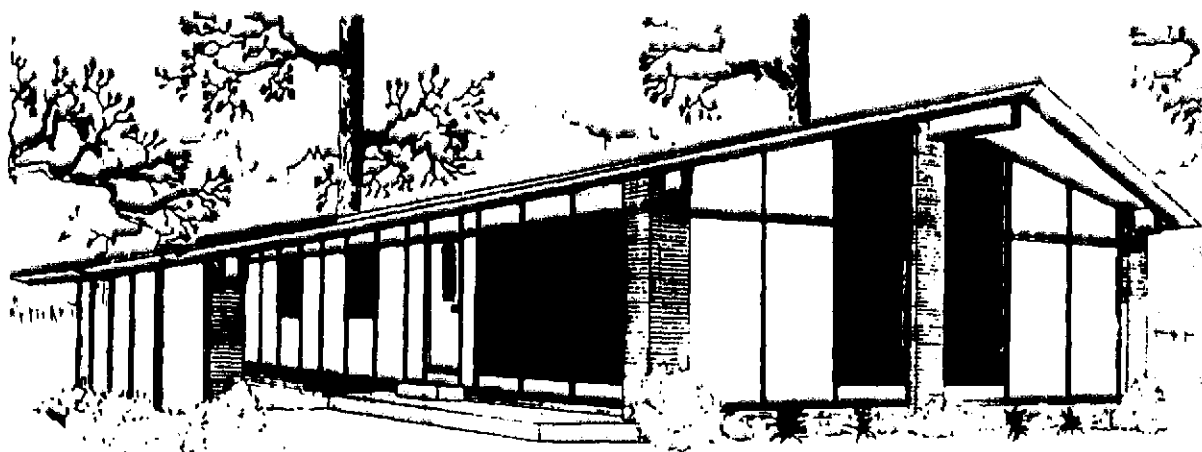

For a while the convicts spent the night in the Pulaski County jail but they are now being transported back to the prison in the evening, he said.

The convicts have salvaged a large quantity of brick, conduit and lumber, Van Winkle said.

Adkisson reportedly was told that the convicts were loosely supervised on the Little Rock job and that they had been seen entering a house on West Second Street and meeting a woman there.

Van Winkle said the two girls he knew about reportedly were of high school age and that he was told they were "standing around and trying to talk to the fellows."

This activity was reported to him by the paid guard, he said.

THE HOUSE FOR COMFORT

Here is the house for a family living in the country or suburban areas. The house is framed to allow liberal use of glass to take advantage of scenic views. The post and beam construction in the kitchen, family area, and living room makes it possible to obtain exposed beam ceilings and random placement of glass. Depending on finish, this house can either have a modern or rustic appearance. It is designed to fit a spacious wooded site in rural areas or a sixty foot wide lot in suburban areas.

The floor plan is arranged to save steps, to cut down on housework, and reduce traffic through the kitchen. It is designed to meet your needs. This three bedroom plan provides a moderate living room, large family area and kitchen with a utility closet in the hall. Room sizes and closets are generous, and the rectangular shape reduces building costs.

The bedrooms are of medium size and arranged to reduce hall space. The combined kitchen and family area is spacious enough to provide easy movement throughout the area with the U-shaped cabinets designed to reduce traffic through the work area.

If you are interested in this plan, No. 647604, working drawings may be obtained from the Hempstead County Agricultural Extension Office. These complete working drawings, which are free of charge, can be used by your local contractor or material dealer in determining building costs for such a house in your community.

Mysterious Signals in Space Could Be From Advanced Civilization

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP)—A government space scientist says it's remotely possible newly detected mysterious signals from outer space may represent "galactic navigational beacons" being employed by an advanced civilization to guide their manned spaceships along the Milky Way.

Another admittedly far-out possibility, says Dr. Kenneth Kellermann, is that the radio wave signals may represent communications signals between four inhabited planets, as well as attempts by each to contact still other planets such as the earth.

Kellermann, of the government's National Radio Astronomy Observatory at Green Bank, W. Va., described the concepts in an interview Tuesday while attending a meeting of the American Astronomical Society at the University of Virginia.

He did so after first declaring that while it's much more likely the strange radio signals are coming from uninhabited starlike objects, the alternative possibility that they may represent signals from intelligent beings has not yet been definitely ruled out.

The discussion concerned recently discovered "pulsars"—four celestial objects of some kind that have been detected by pulsating radio waves they are emitting.

British radioastronomers discovered them last summer but didn't report their findings to the scientific world until late in February. Since then, American scientists have also detected them.

Declaring the discovery has astounded astronomers throughout the world, Kellermann said most radio astronomers in the United States and abroad—including himself—believe the signals are probably coming from "neutron stars."

The latter are previously postulated celestial objects presumed to be a form of wreckage from supernovae or exploding stars.

Some other scientists, he indicated, believe the signals may be coming from other types of dying stars known as "white dwarfs."

"But," he added, "it's probably fair to say that all of these scientists continue to think, in their own minds, of the possibility, however remote, that these signals may be artificial ones produced as a means of communication by some advanced civilization."

In this connection, Kellermann disclosed tentative plans for a government-sponsored, unique doubleheader radio telescope experiment aimed at trying to help pinpoint more definitely the nature of the strange pulsating objects.
